A Novel That Transcends Time and Boundaries

In the pages of 'Woven of the World', acclaimed author Katey Howes invites readers to embark on an extraordinary literary journey that weaves together history, adventure, and the enduring power of human connection. This captivating novel takes us on a global expedition, spanning centuries and cultures, to explore the intricate tapestry of human experience.

Unveiling the Tapestry of the Past

The novel's protagonist, Evelyn Randall, is a young woman in the early 1900s who finds herself drawn into a world of adventure and intrigue when she inherits a mysterious tapestry from her late great-grandmother. As she deciphers the hidden symbols and stories woven into the tapestry, Evelyn embarks on a perilous journey to uncover the secrets of her family's past and the intertwined destinies of diverse cultures across the globe.

Through Evelyn's travels, we encounter an eclectic cast of characters, each with their own unique story to tell. From a nomadic Mongolian shaman to a Japanese tea master, an Indian princess to a Scottish adventurer, Howes deftly portrays the richness and diversity of human lives and cultures throughout history.

A Timeless Exploration of Connection

Beyond the historical backdrop, 'Woven of the World' is ultimately a story about the unbreakable bonds that connect us all. Through the shared experiences of love, loss, resilience, and triumph, Howes explores the profound ways in which our lives are intertwined and the interconnectedness of all humanity.

As Evelyn uncovers the layers of the tapestry, she not only unearths her family's secrets but also gains a deeper understanding of herself and her place in the world. Through her journey, she discovers that the threads of history and culture are woven not just into the fabric of her life but into the very fabric of our collective human tapestry.
